

Get in touch...

Please get in contact if:

- Your organisation is interested in being represented on our Professional Advisory Board to help us develop our policies, procedures and referral protocols;
- Your organisation may be in a position to refer children and young people who may be interested in using the mediation service we develop (this will be from Spring 2005);
- You or your organisation would like to be added to our mailing list. You will be sent information periodically updating on the development of the service;
- You have a group of young people who may value some training from the Youth Animators on Confronting Conflict and mediation techniques.

We are grateful to all our supporters, including:

DfES (Youth Service Unit)

we strongly believe in the peer-led model of training and facilitation and hope the roles of Youth Animators will be a very powerful approach to working with children and young people

Steven Allen and Hanna Bibi
Youth Animators, YCIS

Over the next year, we will:

- initiate and launch a new mediation service, run by and for young people in London. It will be the first specific service of its kind in the country;
- offer workshops in Confronting Conflict techniques and in mediation skills to young people
- develop a mediation service and all of the relevant policies and procedures relating to this;
- run an initial trial of our mediation service in Spring 2005, and evaluate this before moving on.

Who do we want to work with?

- Mediation services around London, starting in North London
- Children and young people from around London who require mediation or training in Confronting Conflict techniques
- Other organisations working with young people, to develop referral protocols with them
- Children and young people-led organisations
